خلاصه مقاله:

Sanctions against Iran are tools to press this country for achieving the political goals of the sanctioning countries. To realize the effects of sanctions, we should realize the kinds of sanctions first. Sanctions against Iran, often invade Iran's economy. One of these pressures and sanctions are creating disorder in our banking system and foreign business. Looking briefly at the kinds and the forms of the sanctions, It is obviously seen that sanctions increase the banking and business risks in Iran. Increases in the risks, causes different results. Among these results are : increases in the costs in different fields , causing negative mental atmosphere in different areas like creating distrust atmosphere to the banking system and causing trouble in inter-banking exchanges and attracting financial resources .from the financial facility donor countries
